

Attention PATTY EWALD

Dear Patty,

The sad news of the death of your mother arrived before our return to Cyprus. We know how strong (and fragile of course) you are so we respond immediately. You are acquainted, I am sure, with Moira, which is stranger than the humans and the Gods, as the ancients said. The inevitability is something one has to accept and life, itself, helps in that.

I signed the contract though some of the questions I did not understand. Who else appeared as a donor?

We had an excellent time in France attending the Critics' Congress and afterwards in Bonn where my son through a party in honour of my birthday.

I did not have the time to meet Michael. We shall see each other on Sunday.

Kisses from Elli

8/6/93.

Pans Penides