Dear Elli:

I hope this communication via the good services of EREYNA reaches you in Athens.

Thank you very much for your beautiful letter and for the copy of the magazine. It is a very special experience to see myself in Greek and an honor to have you as midwife in my poetic delivery to one of my mother languages.

I am enclosing a list of the completed Neustadt jury with the candidate of each jury member. Soon I will be sending to your Limasol address the nomination statements of all the jurors and a packet of selected reading materials representative of each candidate's work. I hope to have all this to you by the time you return home or shortly after. For now, you will at least know who your fellow jurors are and whom they have nominated. It is a very impressive list of candidates and the competition will be very hard, as you can tell.

Please give my regards to Panos and Panita joins me in sending our love to both of you.

Affectionately,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'Djelal', with a long, sweeping underline that extends to the right.
